

Make Your Own Phone Tripod

Lots of us all over the planet are shut in our homes, but still need to communicate with our friends and family - wherever they are, so here is a neat little solution for holding the phone while you speak!

First you need a cardboard-type coffee beaker.

Get a grownup to help you cut two small triangles out of the beaker, one on either side.

And it's that simple - you are now hands-free to skype, facetime and zoom away with your friends! ;)

This also makes a perfect stand for making animations with your mobile, using lego characters, sylvanian families or whatever you have, with the Stop Motion Studio app - Free to download on iphones/ipads/smart phones/tablets :) Go to your Apps hub and look for this logo:
